Ants! They're strong, they're industrious, and they're one of nature's best cleanup crews. Unfortunately, when they crawl on you or your home, they're just pesky.

To help you prepare for our arrival, here are a few things that will help make our treatment more effective.

INSIDE:

- Clean up any scraps on the floor in the kitchen. Look behind the fridge, under the oven drawer, and every other nook and cranny you can think of.
- Move boxes, furniture, and clothing away from walls.
- Vacuum floors in the entire house. Get rid of bits of paper, food, and dirt. Pay special attention to areas on walls with windows.

OUTSIDE:

- Clean up old vegetation. Get rid of leaves, piles of dead plants, etc.
- Remove wood that you don't need on your property. If you leave wood laying around that you won't use within a couple months, you're increasing your chances of getting carpenter ants.
- Move garbage cans and recycling containers away from the house, and keep them as far away as you can. These attract ants and other pests.
- Move your BBQ away from the house.
- Pick up any toys that would likely be in the way in case we need to treat outside with chemicals.
